CCAMLR-XXVII – Translation of Working Papers

Members are advised that the Secretariat has received an unprecedented number of working papers for the CCAMLR-XXVII and SC-CAMLR-XXVII meetings requiring translation into the four Commission languages. Combined with other priority reports (e.g. WG-SAM, WG-EMM, Joint CCAMLR-IWC Workshop and the Performance Review) this volume of papers has placed an exceptional load on Secretariat translation services.

Members should note that papers will be translated in order of submission and that, initially, only partial translation will be possible, despite the fact that Secretariat in-house translators are now working overtime and some translations have been outsourced.

It is emphasised that as in the past, the Secretariat will make every effort to ensure that all key material and working papers are provided to CCAMLR-XXVII in the four official languages of the Commission. Abstracts/summaries, recommendations, proposals and modifications to conservation measures and adopted texts will be translated.

Members are also advised that meeting papers will be processed and placed on the Commission and/or Scientific Committee Members' password-protected webpages in the language of submission as soon as practically possible following submission.

Executive Secretary
